Big Texas — Is Big

High Tax Threat

China Question

Acknowledgment is made here with that your correspondent has bought, and looked through, the Dallas Morning News' epochal "Texas Unlimited" special edition, for the largest single issue ever put out by an American daily.

"Texas Unlimited" came out Sunday — but there were so many acres of newsprint to go through that it was Wednesday before I could say anything.

You have to see it to believe it — a single copy weighs six pounds!

Rumor has it that Eastman Kodak company, studying the relative merits of Camden, Ark., as a location for a new southwestern factory, is hesitating over Arkansas because of this state's revision of the school millage tax law last fall.

In the general election last November we abolished the 18-mill deadline for school taxes, automatically ending the struggle to equalize assessments and putting the burden on a higher millage rate instead. This paper fought the abolition move, on the grounds that (1) it would yield less money to the schools than an assessment reform would, and (2) the prospect of higher millage taxes would act unfavorably on Arkansas' bid for new industrial enterprises.

This now seems to be worrying our own people in the Eastman matter. The cold facts are that Arkansas has a millage tax rate which is frightening to an Easterner — until he finds out that the assessing level is so low that the total dollar tax is reasonable enough.

But the picture is confusing at best, and reshuffling the law to encourage still higher millage rates instead of more reasonable assessments is a quick way to frighten off industry before you have time to explain matters.

Every once in a while we write another piece ranking our lucky American stars that are more heavily committed to the Chinese Nationalist cause and pointing out that there really is no trustworthy regime over there to use American money and, won't be until the Chinese themselves put a stable government together.

A reader now confesses to me that he has known all along I am wrong, and I do the Chinese people a terrible injustice.

Says he: The U. S. specifically guaranteed help to Chiang Kai-shek during World War II, but troops on the Asiatic mainland turned their weapons and supplies over to the Chinese Communists to use against Chiang — and we instead of doing something about it, hypocritically stalked out of the China scene.

I never intended to belittle the tragedy that we call China. It is sufficient to point out that allies who can't work together don't remain allies very long — and American experts were almost uniformly critical of the Nationalists' handling of the civil war.

Fundamentally every American feels a deep sense of caution about involving his own country with China. It has been an economic and military sink-hole for thousands of years. We can help that individual Chinese, but China as a whole is dangerous — and the Chinese themselves set up a stable government.

These aren't mere editorial words — they are the caution given us by the authentic history of the land that used to be an empire and never succeeded in making a republic work.

Shanghai Falls to Chinese Communists

By FRED HAMPSON

Shanghai, May 25 — (AP)—Shanghai fell to the Chinese Communists today. The Reds were clearing out tiny Nationalist resistance pockets in expanding their unopposed occupation of the great city's heart.

Green-clad Communist army veterans entered the Asian metropolis of some 6,000,000 just after dawn. They came from the southwest, to the peeling of church bells, they marched to the center of the city without a fight.

The Reds reached the famous Bund facing the Whangpoo river by 8 a. m. Their line of march was right through the old French concession and international settlement.

Until afternoon, the Communists moved in a move against the only two parts of the city that had not already been handed them, the northeastern district and the Bund itself.

At 11:30 p. m., Red troops moved out into the Bund and against the Nationalist-held bridge across Soochow creek. The Soochow cut through Shanghai from east to west and flows under Garden bridge into the Whangpoo at the north end of the famed thoroughfare.

Some of the bridge-holding Nationalists fought back. Their spans led to the northeast, down the Whangpoo to Woosung, 10 miles away at the mouth of the Yangtze. This was the route the Nationalists used last night to evacuate the bulk of Shanghai's defenders.

The fighting at the Soochow bridge was sharp—but minor. The Communists already had taken the world's fourth largest city. The defense could not last long.

The Nationalists had only about 10 men on each end of Garden bridge when the Communists broke through. There were approximately the same number of defenders on each of the other spans.

The Reds took over abandoned Nationalist emplacements where Nanking road meets the Bund in the north. The third bridge, four blocks to the north.

In the Honkew section, farther north, Nationalists were pulling out toward Woosung. There evacuation was waiting.

The Whangpoo itself was blocked along the Shanghai waterfront. The Nationalists scuttled at least nine ships there. The ship channel was blocked all along the east side in the sprawling Pootung area.

Davis Named Minister to Hungary

Washington, May 25 — (AP)— President Truman today nominated Nathaniel P. Davis as minister to Hungary, where this country has had no representation since the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty.

The action set in motion reports that this government might not restore its legation in Hungary.

Davis, now ambassador to Costa Rica, will succeed Selden Chapin, who resigned to Washington for "consultations" following the Mindszenty case.

In a letter to Chapin released today, Davis announced Mr. Truman expects him to "sign Chapin's name" to an important diplomatic post.

Three other new ambassadors were nominated at the same time: Joseph Black, now ambassador to Bolivia, as ambassador to Costa Rica, succeeding Davis.

George P. Shaw of Texas to be ambassador to El Salvador, succeeding Albert Nuffer, resigned.

Pot Jarman of Alabama, a former member of the house, to be ambassador to Australia. The post is now vacant.

Chapin was recalled from Budapest for consultation following charges that Hungary made against him during the treason trial of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty last winter.

The communist-dominated Hungarian government cut ties with the United States last year, but when Chapin was personally summoned to Washington in 1948, he refused to "reserve its position" in respect to Hungary's action.

Woman 110 Years of Age, Dies at Blytheville

Blytheville, May 24 — (AP)—Fannie Burnett Postelle, 110, died at her home here yesterday.

Born on the John Scott plantation near Abbeville, S. C., July 5, 1839, she moved to Blytheville in 1889 and settled on the plantation of the Rev. Tom Elythe for whom the town was named.

She is survived by a brother and sister in Abbeville, both of whom are more than 100 years old.

Curfew Possibility

Little Rock, May 25 — (AP)—Liquor sales may be prohibited in Arkansas after 10 p. m.

Revenue Commissioner Dean Morley said he was considering regulation making that the "curfew" hour.

Closing in on Shanghai

Latest reports indicate Communists are closing in on Shanghai from east and west. Coordinated Red attacks were launched on an eastern front stretching from Tanchiao (1) to the Yangtzeipo area (2) on the east bank of the Whangpoo river, and in the vicinity of Hungjiao Airfield (3) to the west of the city. Immediately threatened was Shanghai's inner western defense line, a 30-mile wooden fence studded with pillboxes. Hungjiao Airfield is now believed in Communist hands.

Ex-Gang Chief Fighting for His Life

Fairfield, Ill., May 25 — (UP)—Big Earl Shelton, 58, an oldtime gang chief, fought to live today after being ambushed in the same way gunmen killed two of his brothers in the notorious family which once used tanks and planes to fight a rival mob.

An unseen gunman blasted three shots at Shelton while he was playing poker in the Farmer's club a resort he operated on the town square. Two missed. The third slug slipped into his body, narrowly missing his heart.

City Policeman Clarence Colclasure said early investigations failed to turn up any motive for the shooting. He said he did not know whether the attack was connected with the murder of Shelton's brothers, Carl and Bernard.

The three brothers fought an almost incredible gang war which racked southern Illinois for years. The fights with the Bigear gang cost 40 lives during the roaring twenties.

Carl died in a 15-shot machine gun blast from a black sedan which ambushed him on a farm road in 1947. Bernard was slain late last July by a hidden snipers at Peoria, Ill. Neither murder has been solved.

Cloisures said Earl operated the club, which was popular with farmers who wanted to play cards. He said the club also reportedly operated a dice game and roulette wheel.

The semicircular amphitheater was packed early with the great and the little people whose sympathy reached out to the little gray man who had been greatly

Witness Says Blonde Sought Attention

Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 25 — (UP)—Dr. Robert C. Rutledge's blonde, six-foot-tall wife courted the attention of her alleged seducer, Byron Hattman, witnesses claimed today.

The witnesses said that Rutledge's wife, Sydney, 23, visited with Hattman frequently at his drawing board in the Emerson Electric Company plant at St. Louis where they both worked.

Rutledge is standing trial on charges that he followed Hattman here and stabbed him to death in Dec. 24 to avenge his wife's seduction. Rutledge contends he acted in self-defense while attempting to dissuade Hattman from annoying his wife.

That all testimony might be concluded today but observers believed the opposing attorneys would begin their final statements tomorrow or Friday and have the case to the jury before the weekend.

John Quady, Mrs. Rutledge's boss at Emerson, testified that beginning July 23 last year, she stopped for a 10 or 15 minute visit every day at Hattman's desk, just 20 feet from her own.

"Not on one occasion," he said, "did I see Barney (Hattman) at Sydney's desk."

But, he said, the "conversations" seemed to cease about Aug. 10, just 10 days after Hattman allegedly seduced Mrs. Rutledge, and she protested and fought against his advances.

Measles Epidemic About Over in Arkansas

Little Rock, May 25 — (AP)—The Arkansas Health department says the state's several-month-old measles epidemic is "about over."

Through last week 11,406 cases had been reported this year, compared to 2,355 for the corresponding period in 1948.

There were 430 cases last week against 580 the previous week.

"The trend is now definitely downward and from all indications the epidemic is about over," the department said in its weekly communicable disease report.

Last Tribute Paid to Forrestal

Washington, May 25 — (AP)—The nation paid last honors today to James V. Forrestal.

Led by President and Mrs. Truman, high officials of the government and leaders in the United States' business life gathered in funeral services for the first secretary of defense. Bright sunshine bathed Arlington National cemetery for the ceremonies.

Forrestal died in the early hours of Sunday in a leap from a tower at the Bethesda Naval hospital where he had been under treatment after a collapse from overwork. He left behind a book opened to a Greek poetic passage taken as a clue to his last thoughts:

"Better to die and sleep the never-waking sleep, than linger on and dare to live, when the soul's life is gone."

The 57-year-old former secretary of defense was buried with high military honors.

The boom of saluting gun sounded when his body reached the main gates and continued as it was lowered into the earth in the cemetery's amphitheater.

The salutes sounded, one a minute, until 19 guns were fired.

The semicircular amphitheater was packed early with the great and the little people whose sympathy reached out to the little gray man who had been greatly

'More Realistic' Property Tax Discussed

Little Rock, May 25 — (AP)—Possibility of a "more realistic" property tax assessment for the state was one of several points discussed at a forum here yesterday on the "Arkansas Plan."

Marion L. Crist, chairman of the state resources and development commission, said the tax assessment structure is keeping major industries out of the state.

"Assessments are not based on what the law provides, and as a breaking the law as far as assessments are concerned," Crist declared.

Under law assessments are supposed to be based on 50 per cent of valuation.

President Lewis Webster Jones of the University of Arkansas recommended a survey of marketing potential in the state.

At a banquet last night, Governor McNair urged co-operation with the new tax commission.

"They (the commissioners) can't just come into your community," he said. "They have to be asked, x x x If you folks will let the movement to revise our antiquated tax structure, you can do no bigger job."

Missouri Group Favors Horse Race Legislation

Jefferson City, May 25 — (AP)—Legalized horse racing and permitting at-the-track betting won a house committee's approval last night.

Introduced by Rep. Anthony Pickwell (D) of Jackson county, the measure's major provisions include:

Licensing horse racing at daily rates ranging from $100 to $1,000 a day, depending on the population of the locality where the meets are held.

Permitting betting at the track only on either parent-mutuel or the Australian totalizer systems.

Giving the state a 1-2 per cent of the total, wagered, plus all of the breakage (odd pennies), plus 20 cents on each admission ticket. And the track 7-12 per cent of the total bet.

Permitting not more than 30 days racing each six months at each track.

Nation Due to Get Warmer Weather

Chicago, May 25 — (AP)—Lady Spring, wearing a few bedraggled flowers in her lovely hair, took a tentative peek today at the U.S. The weather bureau, which forecast a warm day, said she was what she saw. True, there were thunder showers along the Gulf coast and rain along the Atlantic coast.

The Pacific coast was almost as pretty as the lady — normal and seasonal.

The midriff had some showers and a few below-normal temperatures—nothing extreme.

So the lady, the bureau said, hopefully decided to stick around and warm up to us.

Allied Ministers Have Chance to Take Initiative

Paris, May 25 — (UP)—The way appeared clear today for the Western powers to seize the initiative from Russia and offer Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky a settlement of the German problem on Western terms.

This possibility opened up during yesterday's session when U.S. Secretary of State Acheson, backed by Britain and France, formally rejected a Russian proposal to return to the Potsdam agreement on Germany.

The decision marked a milestone in the history of the German controversy. By it the Western powers formally discarded the Potsdam theory of four-power control through the allied control council.

With coldness marked a year ago when Russia walked out, they also rejected a long-standing Russian demand for a voice in the management of the great industrial Ruhr in Western Germany.

The Western ministers take their opportunity, they are expected to tell Vishinsky at their third meeting today that Russia can have a united Germany—on Western terms.

The decision on Western strategy will be determined at separate meetings of the Western delegations this morning before the council meeting starts.

The general line of Western policy will be to:

1. A united Germany still is desirable and possible if Russia will permit East Germany to join the project for creation of a West German government.

2. It is essential to talk about a return to the old system of four-power control of Germany and Berlin. It has never worked since the end of the war.

3. The Western powers never will agree to give Russia a foothold in the Ruhr.

4. Russia's proposal for an all-German state council would bypass the Bonn constitution and the West and the little people whose sympathy reached out to the little gray man who had been greatly

Some Advice for Youths Who Are Ending Their Golden Years By Graduation

By HAL BOYLE

New York — (AP)—Now is the golden time at end for many a rose-dipped maiden and many a light-footed.

This is the season when alma mater opens her iron gates, and out into an iron world she hurls her annual tide of college graduates.

It is always a trembling hour when the apron strings that bind her to her children, Freedom and responsibility—they are so strange and new.

Goodbye to bracket-yacket-yacket. Farewell dear campus so well beloved, but never so loved as now. Hello, world, so wide and terrible.

Ah, me. Ah, youth. Ah, wilderness! Ah, hell! Don't look so far. Join son. Life isn't all fag and claw and a sharp tack in tight shoes. You're just a freshman in a bigger university—a university in which it is terribly important to pick the right professors.

Until now there has always been somebody ready with a handkerchief to wipe your nose. The first thing you have to learn in this new university you are entering is to keep your nose out of places where people will make it bleed. There are tough kids around who live by the creed that a gun in the hand is worth two in the head. Don't play with them. Stay with the nice boys.

There are cleared places in this age-old jungle that is your new campus. Work with the people that are breaking (odd pennies), plus 20 cents on each admission ticket. And the track 7-12 per cent of the total bet.

Military Pay Raise Slapped Down in House

Washington, May 25 — (UP)—Rep. Paul Kilday, D., Tex., said today the house has killed all chance of revising military pay scales "probably for several years to come."

He is chairman of the house armed services subcommittee which spent three months drafting a military pay bill.

The house late yesterday voted 227 to 163 to send the measure back to committee for further study.

Kilday said he has no intention of trying to bring out a revised version of the legislation at this session of congress.

"If they want to vote for a carefully worked out bill," he said, "I don't see much sense in trying to work out another."

The rejected bill would have provided the biggest pay boosts for generals, least for privates and nothing at all for the lowest recruit. The raises would have ranged from 3.03 per cent to 49.58 per cent.

The measure had the support of President Truman, who served in World War II, played a leading role in killing the bill. They centered their fire on the fact that the highest ranking officers would get the largest pay boosts.

Rep. Pat Fulton, D., Tenn., a naval veteran who rose from apprentice seaman to the rank of lieutenant, junior grade, told the house that "too long has the brass had the breaks."

"It was the civilians in uniform who won the war," he said. "It wasn't the generals who hid behind bomb-proof shelters in the Pentagon. It's the captains and lieutenants who enlisted men who made a big raise."

Cedric Foster to Address Graduates

Siloam Springs, May 25 — (UP)—Cedric Foster, widely known radio news commentator, will be the commencement speaker when 80 seniors of the John Brown university here receive diplomas next Monday.

This is the largest class to be graduated in the 30-year history of the university which specializes in training that combines vocational, academic and religious instruction.

Foster will be awarded an honorary doctorate of laws degree for his "effective continuous leadership in the field of radio broadcasting."

His daily commentary will be originated from the university's radio station on commencement day.

Other recipients of honorary degrees will be Clarence W. Jones, founder of the Pioneer Missionary broadcast station in Quito, Ecuador, and Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Tovey, directors of the music of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles.

Commencement activities will begin on the campus Saturday night with the annual spring music festival featuring the nationally known John Brown university choir and orchestra.

Directors of the board of directors, will be the baccalaureate speaker.

AEC Ordered to Explain Uranium Theft

Washington, May 25 — (UP)—The Atomic Energy Commission was ordered today to explain in public how it happened to lose an ounce of the most valuable of which bombs are made.

The explanation will be forthcoming tomorrow at a public session of the house-senate Atomic Energy Committee.

Chairman Brian McMahon, (D-Conn.) said his committee decided to give the atomic commission an opportunity "to explain the side of the case" out in the open.

Heretofore the uranium loss has been explored in detail only at hearings from which the public was excluded.

Loss of the uranium was discovered Feb. 8 at the Argonne National Laboratory near Chicago. Since then, according to the commission, less than a pound of uranium has been recovered.

A question which has disturbed congressmen studying the uranium loss was why it was not reported to the FBI until six weeks after it was discovered.

Although the commission insists no theft or espionage was involved, Chairman David E. Lilienthal charged yesterday that the FBI should have been called in at once.

He attributed the failure to do so to "human mistake" and said that, as chairman, he had no objection to "being given hell for it."

Local Firms Thanked for Concert Help

The Community Concerts association appreciates the support it received from the business firms of Hope who donated student tickets.

"These firms responded so favorably that next year we hope that every business house will take advantage of the opportunity to support such a worthwhile community project," the association said today.

The association is eager to give the young people of Hope an opportunity to hear good music in order to develop their appreciation for music and possibly to inspire them to a musical education.

The firms listed below purchased student tickets which will be distributed through the Hope school system to enable a few of our deserving children, who otherwise would have no opportunity, to hear these artists which Community Concerts will bring to Hope:

Reuther, CIO Auto Union Boss, Seriously Shot

Detroit, May 25 — (AP)—A sleek gunman, firing through a window, shot and wounded Walter Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers union at his home last night.

Badly hurt, the 37-year-old unionist faces the possible loss of his right eye, pierced by a shotgun bullet.

Thus, for a second time within 13 months, police victory sought man, or men, apparently bent on murder in the UAW-CIO's Reuther family.

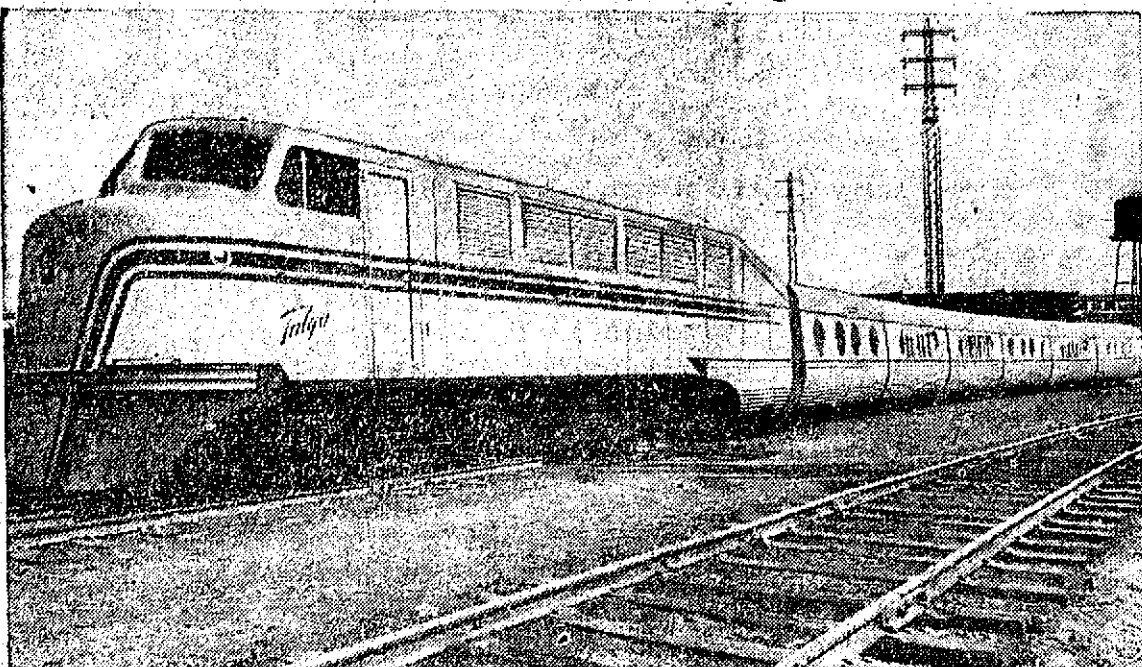

The union's president Walter Reuther escaped death at the hands of a mysterious assailant the night of April 20 last year.

That attack remains unsolved despite one of the most extensive investigations in Detroit's police records.

Walter called his brother shooting "another dastardly anti-American trick."

Later Walter charged that the attack on himself and Victor Reuther, his brother, was part of a campaign to do it in

New Low-Slung Streamliner Hugs the Rails

The first train ever built in America based on the Spanish "Patentes Talgo" is now ready in Berwick, Pa., for testing and demonstration across the nation. Built by the American Car and Foundry Co., the revolutionary streamliner literally hugs the rails. The locomotive is two feet lower than a standard diesel-electric and coaches four feet lower than present-day equipment without loss of interior space. Floor level in the coaches is only 18 inches above the rails.

DOROTHY DIX Older Wife

Dear Miss Dix: I have read your column for years and have enjoyed it, but there is one trend I agree. That is, every time a fellow asks if he should marry a girl older than himself you say NO. Yet some of our leading psychologists and doctors recommend that men pick out older women for wives. By the time a girl becomes educated, gets her bearings in the outer world and has acquired some common sense she is no longer a teen-ager. She has the wit to know what kind of a man she wants, and often he may be younger than she is. Indeed, the happiest marriage I ever knew was one in which the wife was 20 years older than her husband.

Many of the finest women, who would make excellent wives and mothers are destined to the ranks of spinsterhood because the men who are in their age class are already married, and the men think they will be ridiculed if they take a bride older than themselves. It is a man's loss, because when a woman has been around a little she appreciates a good man and will do more for his happiness and advancement than any youngster would attempt to do.

Modern times are changing opinions and this is one subject that should be brought up to date.

Answer: I fully agree with you that the mature woman is far better fitted for marriage than the bobby-soxer is. She has had the education that only experience can give. She knows what she wants in a husband and how much she can reasonably expect of him. She knows she is hearing the last call to the dining car and that she had better jump aboard if she doesn't want to get left.

Husband-spoilers

There are no such husband-spoilers as old maids make if they marry, and women who have cut their wisdom teeth would be the preferred matrimonial risk except for the sad fact that men do the picking and they use their eyes often than they do their brains in selecting their wives. It is the pretty little baby-face that gets them. It is youth calling to youth. It is because their steps match in the dance. It is because their follies draw them together, as the sterling qualities of no older person do.

So, no matter if a woman possesses every virtue in the world, except youth, it is a risky business for her to marry a man much younger than herself. Sometimes it works out well, for there are sedate and serious-minded men who were old even in their cradles. But, generally speaking, the happy marriages are those in which a couple grow up together and have the same viewpoints and tastes.

When a man begins calling his wife MOTHER, the honeymoon is over.

Answer: Undoubtedly it is a severe strain upon a wife's nerves and temper to have a husband who passes into the silence as soon as he comes home and leaves the little woman so bottled up with gossip and the cute way the baby acted that she is ready to explode, but it is the common lot of wives. Why husbands almost universally think that being an entertaining companion is no part of their duty Heavens alone knows. Maybe it is because they have had to talk so much in their business all day that their speaking apparatus is worn out, and that is why they just grunt when their wives try to engage them in conversation.

Anyhow, women marry to get companions, not dummies. Hub-bans need a little more of the admonition the old butler, in the judgment of the young daughter of the house and hissed in her ear, "the left."

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler Copyright, 1947 By King Features Syndicate.

I have letters from two policemen who have served in violent C.I.O. insurrections against the authority of elected government, and some other data which bears on the riotous past and riotous future plans of unions. Unlike the Ku Klux Klan which was the punching dummy of the Truman civil rights fume which has wasted so much time of the Democratic 81st congress, the criminal unions are actually progress of the national administration. They intimidate many state and city governments. It would be conservative to say that the victims of union goons, killed, and injured, have outnumbered victims of the modern and now defunct Klan, 100 to one. Yet Truman and the alien-minded investigators who put the so-called civil rights program into his platform have demanded the full restoration of the power of government while they howled against race lynchings in southern states.

All those who have been killed or injured by organized goons have been innocent persons. Invariably, victims of southern lynchings have been suspected of repulsive crimes. Not always have the local authorities connived at southern lynchings although it would be insincere to claim that they always did their best to prevent them. But there is a vital point in the fact that the Truman party wanted a federal law to punish southern communists, but specifically exempted northern cities whose public officials were feared or refused to protect life and property against union goons.

Howard W. Hoyt, the chief of police of Kalamazoo, writes to complain against "inferences of cowardice on the part of any of the half-dozen officers who found themselves confronted with a mob of from 200 to 400 well-organized, determined and armed goons" during riots at a plant struck by the C.I.O. last winter. The union confessed here was the United Steelworkers, the home union of President Philip Murray.

The details of the vandalism and personal assaults on law-abiding citizens who tried to go to their jobs and of the conduct of the cops in the presence of the goons have already been presented here.

Chief Hoyt's policemen stood by, permitting all this, and even were afraid to prevent the criminals from burning a truck in their presence. An official report to congress by Rep. Clare E. Hoffman, of the fourth Michigan district, who conducted hearings in Kalamazoo, said four of these policemen, all armed and all sworn to enforce the law, flinched and did nothing. One of the goons, in a group of about 10, advanced on the four armed cops, and warned them not to try to use a fire hose. One cop started to walk after this goon and the goon "turned around and stopped and looked at me standing there alone and started for me." So the cop put his hands on the butt of his gun but didn't draw it or shoot. He let the union criminal walk away.

Chief Hoyt writes that a grand jury soon voted indictments against eleven of the top local area and four of these policemen, all armed and all sworn to enforce the law, flinched and did nothing. GOLFER BREAKS LEG New Bedford, Mass. May 25. — (UP)—Some golfers break 90 and others break their clubs.

George H. Parker, Jr., had to be different.

He stepped up to the tee yesterday, uncocked a tremendous drive, wound up off balance—and broke his leg.

Mr. Hoyt then reminds me that in Michigan human life is held so precious that capital punishment has repeatedly been rejected.

"You will find," he adds, "that police officers usually reflect in their actions the dispositions of the communities they serve. Kalamazoo is a peaceful, law-abiding community."

Here, then, is a cop with abundant authority in law to use sufficient force to put down violence, trying to excuse the flagrant failure of his department on the grounds that the people of Kalamazoo, somehow, had expressed a preference for anarchy by armed strangers imported from the outside for the specific purpose of terrorizing their town and their local government. On the same theory, a cop would refrain from intervening on a criminal caught in the act of rape, murder or highway robbery. He would let him get away with it.

And then tell it to a grand jury. His attitude is reminiscent of that of the English civilian who caught his wife in infidelity with a blue jacket.

"You will find, I am," he said. "I shall report him to his commanding officer."

My other letter comes from Captain James L. Mooney, retired, of the Chicago Police department, who has summarized the details of the Communist revolution at the Communist Steel company's plant in South Chicago. The tawdry professional union leader and all Communists have referred to this villain start of this staff of uniformed cops as the "Memorial Day massacre."

But it was there that government came to a stand against howling anarchy in Chicago and established a precedent that has been respected ever since.

"It is frightening," Captain Mooney writes, "to read your attacks on communism and to know that you reach so many Americans who might otherwise remain ignorant of the Red menace. The incident of Memorial Day 1937 shows where I stand. Everything you said is the absolute truth. My men and I did our best that day to prove that there is no place in our country for individuals who are bent on overthrowing our American government."

Not one of the goons killed that day ever had worked in the plant. There was no strike. It was a Communist revolution.

Now we find the congressional record a picture of Captain Caesar Scavarda, of the Michigan State police, warning the president of a strike plant under siege by violent pickets not to "start anything." We find another picture of the same brave trooper escorting a slight young woman, torn and disheveled, through a mob of goons and the note that he made no arrests "although assault and battery occurred in his presence."

And, summing up his testimony as to law enforcement in still another insurrection by the C. I. O. at Jackson, Mich., Mr. Hoffman writes: "The hearings show that Harry W. Bates, the chief of police, was chased down the street half a block by the pickets. He evidently preferred to run rather than make any attempt to exert his authority. The chief is a big man, over 6 feet and over 200 pounds in weight."

Buddy Davis, veteran scout, will be in charge of the camp.

Robinson on Greatest Batting Spree

Associated Press Sports Writer Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson, in the midst of the greatest batting spree of his career, is taking the west by storm.

The Dodgers' star second baseman, more than any other Dodger, has been responsible for Brooklyn's road record of six victories in eight games.

In eight games, the Negro flash has rapped out 15 hits in 34 times at bat for a .441 batting average. He drove in 17 runs to boost his league leading total to 32. His season batting mark now is .316.

He tops the circuit with 18 extra base swats including 11 doubles, two triples and a home run. He also leads in stolen bases with 13. In the field, he is playing a near-flawless game.

Robinson whacked a pair of home runs and a single last night to lead the Dodgers to a 6-1 triumph over the Pirates in Pittsburgh.

Each of his blows came with Duke Snider on base. Snider collected four hits in five times at bat.

Backed by a 13-hit attack against Bob Chalmers, Hal Gregg and Cliff Chambers, Right-handed Ralph Branca rolled to his seventh successive triumph. The Brooklyn ace has not been beaten this season.

The victory, coupled with St. Louis' 3-1 win over the league leader Braves, enabled the third place Dodgers to cut Boston's margin to two games. They trail the second place Giants by a game and a half. The Giants lost a golden opportunity to take over the lead when they were beaten by the Cubs in Chicago, 8-2.

The fourth place Reds went 11 innings to nip the Philadelphia Phils, 4-3, in a night game in Cincinnati.

The Boston Red Sox, looking more like pennant contenders each day, won a tense 10-inning 8-7 thriller from the Detroit Tigers for their fourth straight triumph.

The pre-season favorites for the third place, but still four-and-a-half games behind the front-running New York Yankees. The Bronx Bombers had an easy time of it subduing the hapless St. Louis Browns, 13-3 at the Yankee Stadium.

The scheduled night games between Chicago and Washington, and Cleveland and Philadelphia were postponed by rain.

Bobby Doerr's single with the bases loaded scored two runs for Boston after the Tigers had taken a temporary 7-5 lead in the top of the 10th.

The Yankees took advantage of some loose fielding by the Browns to tally 10 times in the fifth to wrap up the ball game. Phil Rizzuto's bases-loaded triple and Yogi Berra's three-run homer featured the uprising.

Stan Musial's home run with a mate aboard in the fifth inning broke up a tight pitching duel between winner Harry Brecheen and loser Johnny Antonelli to give the Cardinals victory over the Browns. Brecheen permitted only five hits for his third victory.

Mr. Hoyt then reminds me that in Michigan human life is held so precious that capital punishment has repeatedly been rejected.

"You will find," he adds, "that police officers usually reflect in their actions the dispositions of the communities they serve. Kalamazoo is a peaceful, law-abiding community."

Here, then, is a cop with abundant authority in law to use sufficient force to put down violence, trying to excuse the flagrant failure of his department on the grounds that the people of Kalamazoo, somehow, had expressed a preference for anarchy by armed strangers imported from the outside for the specific purpose of terrorizing their town and their local government. On the same theory, a cop would refrain from intervening on a criminal caught in the act of rape, murder or highway robbery. He would let him get away with it.

And then tell it to a grand jury. His attitude is reminiscent of that of the English civilian who caught his wife in infidelity with a blue jacket.

"You will find, I am," he said. "I shall report him to his commanding officer."

My other letter comes from Captain James L. Mooney, retired, of the Chicago Police department, who has summarized the details of the Communist revolution at the Communist Steel company's plant in South Chicago. The tawdry professional union leader and all Communists have referred to this villain start of this staff of uniformed cops as the "Memorial Day massacre."

But it was there that government came to a stand against howling anarchy in Chicago and established a precedent that has been respected ever since.

"It is frightening," Captain Mooney writes, "to read your attacks on communism and to know that you reach so many Americans who might otherwise remain ignorant of the Red menace. The incident of Memorial Day 1937 shows where I stand. Everything you said is the absolute truth. My men and I did our best that day to prove that there is no place in our country for individuals who are bent on overthrowing our American government."

Not one of the goons killed that day ever had worked in the plant. There was no strike. It was a Communist revolution.

Now we find the congressional record a picture of Captain Caesar Scavarda, of the Michigan State police, warning the president of a strike plant under siege by violent pickets not to "start anything." We find another picture of the same brave trooper escorting a slight young woman, torn and disheveled, through a mob of goons and the note that he made no arrests "although assault and battery occurred in his presence."

And, summing up his testimony as to law enforcement in still another insurrection by the C. I. O. at Jackson, Mich., Mr. Hoffman writes: "The hearings show that Harry W. Bates, the chief of police, was chased down the street half a block by the pickets. He evidently preferred to run rather than make any attempt to exert his authority. The chief is a big man, over 6 feet and over 200 pounds in weight."

Legion to Play Waldo Tonight at Fair Park

The Waldo Giants come to Hope tonight for a second game with the Legion team, at Fair park diamond at 8 o'clock. The visitors will be seeking a second win over the Hope nine, having licked them 10-2 last week.

In the first game the Legion outfit Waldo 6 to 5 but a couple of strikeouts following 7 innings of airtight baseball gave the game away.

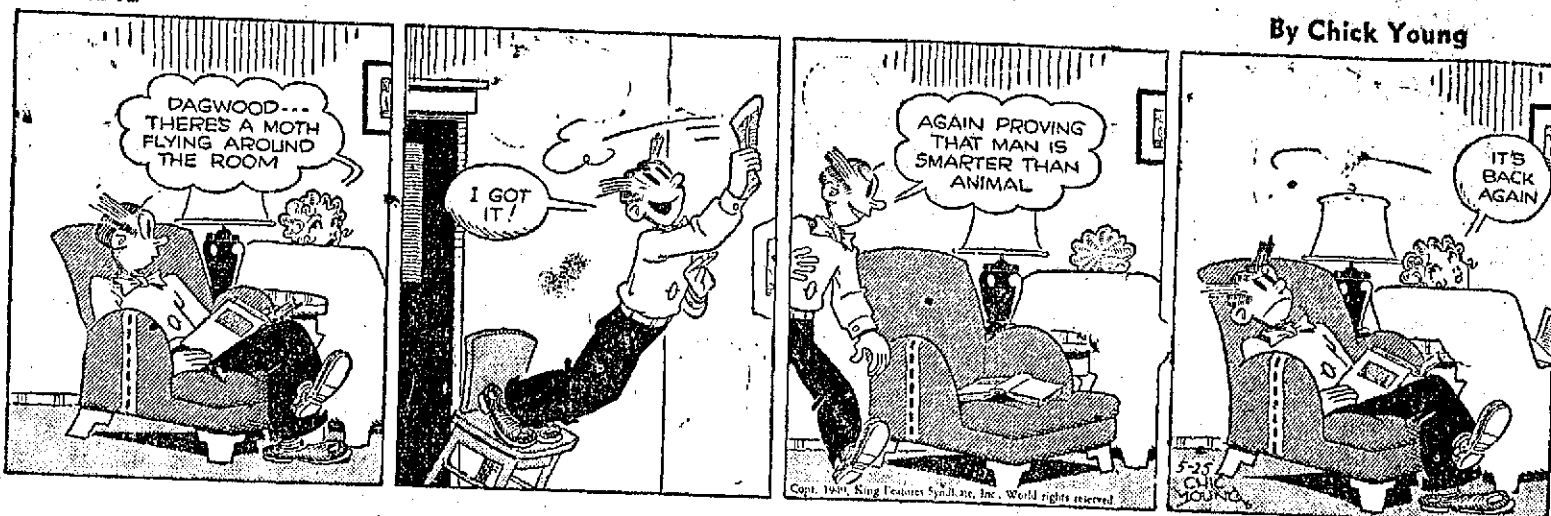

Waldo has one of the smoothest clubs in this part of the state, having beaten just about everybody they have played. Manager Clyde Zinn announced his probable starting lineup as;

Gilroy, Ross, 3b; G. Anderson, SS; Fountain or White at 2b; Bill McClelland C; Townsend fb; Jack Bell cf; Schooley if; W. H. Gunter or Roy Taylor rf; and Milton Dillard on the mound.

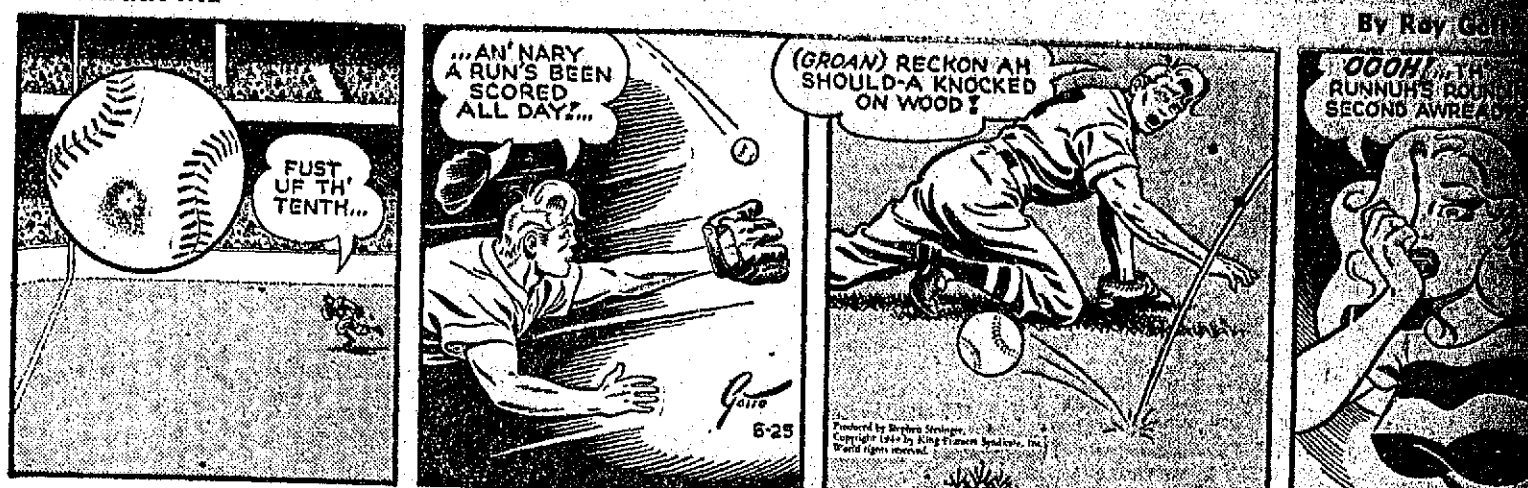

Ethel Jack McClelland or Denzil Cross will start the game tonight against Waldo. Dillard, previously given the starting nod, cut his finger this morning and will be unavailable.

Manager Zinn wants all players at the park by 6:30 p. m.

Labor Vote Change Is Commended

Little Rock, May 24 — (AP) — Congressional action on the Wood Labor bill was described by Assistant Secretary of Labor Ralph Wright today as "The turning point against reactionary forces in this country."

The house voted recently to recommit the bill to committee. Received much publicity for voting for recommitment only a day after they apparently favored passage of the bill.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the 43rd Annual convention of the Arkansas State Federation of Labor here, Wright said:

"Arkansas' congressional delegation is deserving of a great deal of credit for its courageous stand in helping uphold the firm hand of president Truman and preventing passage of the Wood bill."

He said he believes the recommitment was "in favor of a continuation of the liberal social and economic legislative program begun in the early days of the Roosevelt administration."

Wright added:

"It is the type of determination and forthright thinking thus displayed by the Arkansas representatives in congress that will result in the outright repeal of the anti-union Taft-Hartley law in favor of a fair and just labor bill that will restore and guarantee a free labor movement."

The Arkansans who "switched" their votes on the Wood bill are Reps. Harris, Hays, Tackett and Norrell.

Aluminum Union to Open Talks About Wages

Pittsburgh, May 25 — (AP) — The CIO-United Steelworkers and the Aluminum Company of America open contract talks today which the union says is the first major negotiations involving the 1949 wage policy.

Demands will include a general, but unspecified, wage increase, social insurance and pensions. The objectives are similar to those sought by the steelworkers from the steel industry.

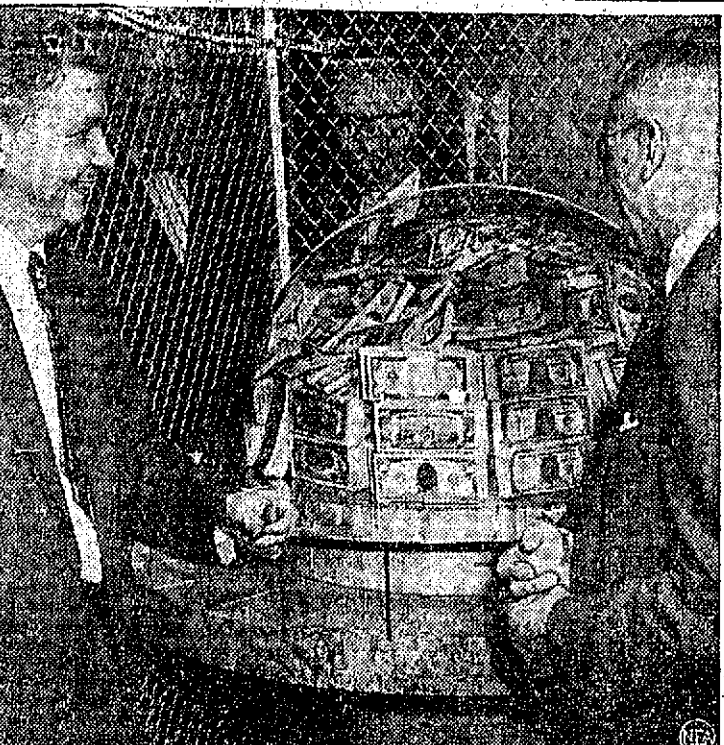

Nine plants and mines in nine states covering 20,000 workers, will be affected by the Alcoa negotiations.

Affected mines are at Bauxite, Ark.

Rice Market Futures May Be Sought

Little Rock, May 25 (AP) — A futures market for rice would remove some of the fluctuations in fortune for producers of the commodity, says Sam L. Austin, Austin, a public relations director for the Chicago Mercantile exchange, expressed his views here yesterday. He was en route to Hot Springs to attend the 30th annual meeting of the Rice Millers' association, which opens tomorrow.

An exchange might limit the profits of the producer in boom years, but this would be more than compensated for because it also would prevent him from going broke in bust years, Austin declared.

Aly Seeking Yacht to Give Rita

By ROBERT MUSEL
Cannes, France, May 25 — (UP) — Prince Aly Khan has been searching for a modest yacht in the quarter million dollar class as a wedding present for Rita Hayworth, whom he will marry Friday, it became known today.

The search has been unsuccessful to date, even though the prince has been quietly canvassing Mediterranean resorts for some time. He inquired into the chances of buying the "Serenia," a luxurious craft owned by a mid-east millionaire, but it was not for sale.

Miss Hayworth on her part wishes to surprise prince with a stunning new costume when they are married day after tomorrow, but word of her original selection has leaked out and she may change her mind.

And today another hitch developed in the matrimonial plans of the Indian Moslem prince and his film star bride-to-be. The French minister of justice refused permission for the marriage to take place in the prince's luxurious Chateau de L'Horizon.

Instead the ceremony must be held in the town hall at nearby Vallauris in accordance with normal French procedure. Although Prince Aly was upset by the news, he bowed to the decision. He is now revising the wedding schedule and arranging transportation from the Chateau to the city hall for his 4000 guests.

In spite of all the principles could do to discourage publicity, the wedding was drawing more and more interest. More than 100 newspapermen and photographers have arrived to cover the event and the French government has assigned 200 policemen to keep order.

Lee Elroy, one of the two press agents for the event, said the policemen would form a shoulder-to-shoulder wall around the big white villa for most of Friday. This despite the fact that there is a high wall and ditch blocking the house from the road, both of which would stop anyone but a well-trained commando.

The ceremony will be a civil affair performed by Paul Derigon, the Communist mayor of Vallauris. The Mohammedan ceremony, originally scheduled to follow by one hour, will take place quietly on Saturday.

Sixty cases of fine wines and liquors for the wedding poured into the Chateau today and there will be a special guard posted at the swimming pool to make sure none of the guests fall in.

Big Four Ministers Slip Speedily Back Into Their Old Conference Procedure

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

That crash you heard yesterday afternoon was the monkey-wrench landing in the proceedings of the newly assembled Big Four foreign ministers' council in Paris.

The Big Four have slipped speedily back into their old position of opposition — Russia versus America, Britain and France. The difficulty, as anticipated, is the matter of settling Germany's future.

When the council assembled Monday, after a lapse of a year and a half since the Russians walked out of the last session, there was the outward atmosphere of a love feast. The opening meeting was a half-fellow-well-met affair among Foreign Ministers Bevin of Britain, Schuman of France, Vishinsky of Russia and Acheson of America. The frequently fiery Vishinsky promptly agreed to an agenda proposed by the three Western powers saying affably:

"If I am not absolutely convinced by your argument, nevertheless I will consent to your proposal, x. We are going to agree on all questions here."

The Western powers had entered the meeting determined to carry through the establishment of a federal republic in their zones of Germany, and hoping to persuade Russia to bring the Eastern zone into this government. That is, they were aiming for a united Germany which still would remain under Allied supervision until complete moral and economic rehabilitation had been achieved.

When Vishinsky was called on yesterday to state Russia's position he accused the Western powers of departing from the principles laid down in the Allied pact made at Potsdam just after the end of the European fighting. He called for restoration of four-power control throughout Germany, as laid down in Potsdam, and for establishment of a German state council with economic and administrative functions.

This would mean a return to the original controls on Germany and would do away with the newly created German republic.

It would be a complete reversal of much that the Western Allies have been working for.

Then Vishinsky hit on another highly controversial issue — the disposition of the great industrial Ruhr, which is the heart of German economy. The Ruhr valley lies in Western Germany and America, Britain and France already have worked out a plan for international control, excluding Russia.

Vishinsky proposed that the Ruhr be placed under control of the Big Four, and countries bordering Germany. These countries would include not only the Western nations of Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg but Poland and Czechoslovakia on the East.

The Western foreign ministers followed Vishinsky in rapid succession and with few but pointed words. Acheson was first and struck a striking figure of speech in which he compared Vishinsky's plan with the idea of a patient, who had the use of three paralyzed limbs restored, being persuaded to return to the paralyzed condition.

Acheson made it clear the West wasn't going to undo what had been done in Western Germany. Schuman followed in similar strain, and argued against returning to the starting point (Potsdam) and repeating old mistakes. Bevin backed up Acheson and Schuman.

What all this really means is that we have entered a new phase of the battle for control of Germany, politico-economic keystone of Europe. Observers think they see in the back of Russia's mind the idea that under the old four power control, a Soviet dominated Eastern Germany might in due course dominate the whole country and thus achieve German communization.

If that view is correct, then the fight among the powers must go

Arkansans Seek to Operate Part of M&A Line

Washington, May 25 — (AP) — A group of Arkansans are "optimistic" over their chances of purchasing and operating 201 miles of the now abandoned Missouri and Arkansas railroad from Neosho, Mo., the northern terminal of the old line, to Kensett Ark.

They are here to ask the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a $1500,000 loan to finance purchase and rehabilitation of the line and to talk with Interstate Commerce Commission officials about an operating certificate.

Sterlin Hurley of Harrison and J. E. Simpson of Berryville said the RFC was sending a man to Arkansas Monday to check physical properties involved.

Regular freight service would be operated between Neosho and Kensett. There are connections with main lines at both prospective terminals.

on. The West never will give in to any arrangement which will throw Germany under Communism.
